LET NEVADA ALONE.

When Congress meets there is sure to be introduced the familiar bill to annex Utah to Nevada. It is wonderful how much trouble Nevada causes Eastern Congressmen and newspapers. The spectacle of the small population of the State and its depressed industries appears to inflict a sense of personal injury on the Atlantic strip, and it is considered there a patriotic duty to discuss means of depriving Nevada of Statehood. That less than 50,000 people should have the same representation in the Senate as New York's and Pennsylvania's millions is considered an outrage, the protestors forgetting that had the small States not been assured equal representation with the large ones in the Senate there would have been no Constitution and no Union. Moreover the Senate has not suffered at Nevada's hands. On the average she has sent men to that body who have sized up very creditably with the conferees from other States. Jones and Stewart, for instance, can stand comparison with Hill and Murphy and Cameron. This constant girding at Nevada is gross ingratitude. The country owes a great deal to the Sagebrush State. Judge C. C. Goodwin, once editor of the Virginia City Enterprise and now of the Salt Lake Tribune, has written a capital book, "The Wedge of Gold," in which he does justice to Nevada.

Nevada, small as is her population supports her State Government, pays her Federal taxes and is quite capable of minding her own business and taking care of herself. She is simply in hard luck at present. The State has immense resources, agricultural as well as mineral, and will come out all right in the end. To talk of handing her over to the Mormons is to contemplate a crime. The Nevadans, if they are not numerous, assay high in manhood, and they have the last say as to what shall be done with their State's sovereignty. They will keep it and guard it.—Post.

Nickel Mines.

The National Nickel Company, whose mines are located 40 miles southeast of Lovelock, in Churchill county, are about to commence the construction of big works at that point for reducing the nickel ore found in that district. Superintendent C. Bell was a passenger from the west yesterday morning's train and told a Gazette reporter that while below he had contracted for a $75,000 plant and the machinery would commence to arrive shortly. An English company own the mines and have been engaged in development for the past four or five years and have enough in sight to justify them in the construction of works. They have had an expert on the ground for the past five weeks from Sheffield, England, by the name of Martino, a man thoroughly conversant with nickel ore, who says it is the richest mine in the world. Mr. Bell has sunk a shaft on the property to the north of 550 feet and run in several tunnels, varying in length from 200 to 675 feet, at various points. The nickel will be separated from the arsenic and cobalt and shipped to the Selby Smelting Works in San Francisco.

Of Interest to Miners.

The following appears in the Examiner query column: in reference to the new mining law: The bill passed, was signed and became a law, as was heretofore stated by the Examiner. It provides that "No mining claim which has been regularly located and recorded as required by the local laws and mining regulations shall be subject to forfeiture for non-performance of the annual assessment work for the year 1893, provided, that the claimant or claimants of any mining location in order to secure the benefits of this Act shall cause to be recorded in the office where the location notice or certificate is filed, on or before December 31, 1893, a notice that he or they in good faith intend to hold and work said claim." The bill applies to all States and Territories except South Dakota.
